

OETA and the Oklahoma Historical Society Present a Special Screening of *Back In Time: Haunted Heritage

Oklahoma City, OK—The Oklahoma Educational Television Authority (OETA), in partnership with the Oklahoma Historical Society (OHS), invites the public to a special screening of the Back In Time episode “Haunted Heritage.” This event, designed to delve into Oklahoma's rich and eerie tapestry, will take place just in time for Halloween.

Date: Wednesday, October 30th

Time: 11:00 AM - 1:00 PM

Location: The Oklahoma History Center, Oklahoma City

Registration: bit.ly/BackInTimeHaunted

Back in Time is OETA's award-winning original series dedicated to uncovering significant people, events, and stories that have shaped Oklahoma's rich history. "This special screening allows us to delve into Oklahoma's fascinating and sometimes chilling history. From the mysterious Spook Light flickering along the Missouri border to the haunting whispers of the Parallel Forest, this episode reveals the eerie tales woven into our landscape," said Robert Burch, OETA Producer.

Following the screening, a panel discussion featuring paranormal investigators, local historians, and storytellers will provide insights into the folklore and ghostly tales that shape our understanding of history. Matthew Pearce, State Historian, will moderate. Panelists include:

- Chantry Banks – Oklahoma Historical Society Director of Museums and Sites
- Robert Burch – OETA Producer
- Stacy Price – Paranormal Investigator
- Jeff Provine – Professor and Author

“I look forward to sharing the stories of the paranormal activity that happens at many OHS sites. Whether you believe or not, unexplainable things happen across the state,” said Chantry Banks.

The event is free and open to all ages. More information and registration details are available on Back In Time's Facebook Event Page. For media inquiries, please get in touch with Jennifer Mullins, VP of Marketing and Communications, at jmullins@oeta.tv.
